

Where Does This Path Lead? - Psalm 77

We were supposed to walk the path together:

It was new love, young love.

He grounded the spirit in me that always wanted to take flight

We wanted to share this love with another and became pregnant

The day began glorious and light filled, it ended in darkness and gloom

In a coma, in despair my mind was present but my body wasn't there Heading to hospice nearing the end he said you have to fight so we're together again

She slowly healed as two years passed she learned anew to walk and talk the journey's not through

He was by my side every step of the way. Offering a strong arm and a caring heart

It will be normal again then our journey together will restart.

Ps 142:3 When my spirit grows faint within me, it is you who watch over my way.

In this new beginning there was an ending that launched a new beginning

He died. He DIED

1-2 When in distress I sought the Lord

My Soul is comfortless

Vast distance between the former days and the present

3-9 Feeling forgotten, my voice fades

If I remember you were once near me I am compelled to groan

This feels like the constant beating as on an anvil

You would not let me sleep: I remembered glory days

Will my heart that was once filled with praise be fill with gloom

What about His: unfailing love, promises, faithfulness, compassion

10-15 I will remember his powerful right hand

16-19 God moves what stands in the way.

20 God leads to the promised goal:

Will you follow, will you hope, will you continue

Follow those he send to lead: Ps 23
