I have seen Israel's misery

I have not forgotten you

I have heard you cry out

I will save you from Pharaoh's hold

I will cause blessing to come

I will take them from this land to a good and spacious land

I am sending you to draw them out

I am with you

What great power has a hold on you

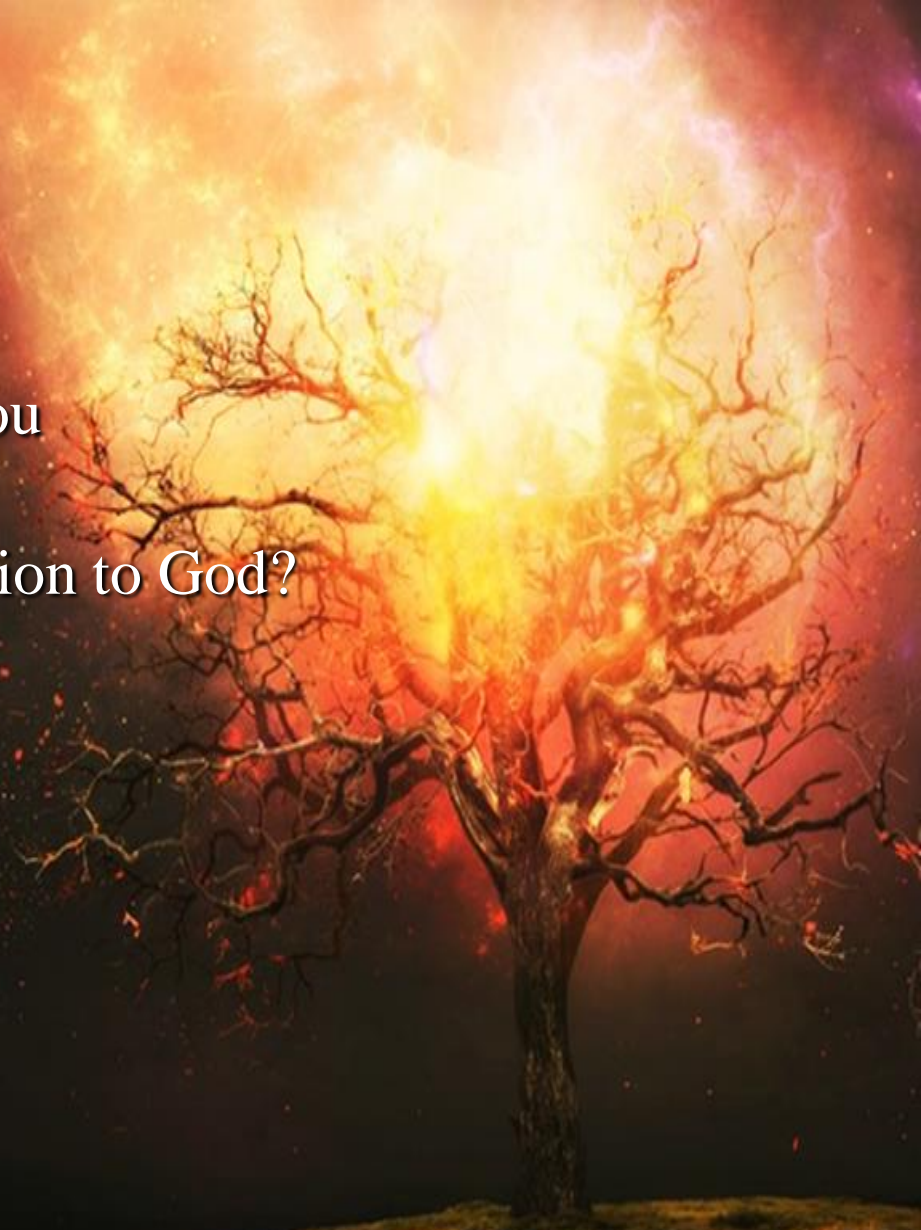

What keeps you enslaved to rebellion to God?

Fear of failure

What great power has a hold on you

What keeps you enslaved to rebellion to God?

Fear of failure

Fear of success

A large, gnarled tree stands on a grassy hill. Its canopy is a brilliant, glowing fire of orange and yellow, contrasting sharply with the dark, starry night sky. The background is filled with a soft, ethereal light, possibly from a distant star or nebula, creating a dramatic and somewhat ominous atmosphere. The tree's branches are bare and intricate, reaching out against the fiery light.

Hebrews 3:1-6

Holy brothers and sisters, who share in the heavenly calling, fix your thoughts on Jesus, whom we acknowledge as our apostle and high priest.

² He was faithful to the one who appointed him, just as Moses was faithful in all God's house.

³ Jesus has been found worthy of greater honor than Moses, just as the builder of a house has greater honor than the house itself. ⁴ For every house is built by someone, but God is the builder of everything. ⁵ "Moses was faithful as a servant in all God's house," bearing witness to what would be spoken by God in the future. ⁶ But Christ is faithful as the Son over God's house. And we are his house, if indeed we hold firmly to our confidence and the hope in which we glory.

A tree with a glowing, fiery canopy against a dark, starry night sky. The tree is the central focus, with its branches reaching out. The background is a deep black with scattered red and white stars, and a bright, fiery glow emanates from behind the tree's canopy, creating a dramatic, ethereal atmosphere.

What holds you back from fully trusting God?

What do you ultimately trust?

How is this focus of trust guiding daily choices?

Does this trust offer anything beyond this world?

Where are your choices leading you?
